Please find the reviewers' reports at the end of this email. Please also take a moment to check our website at <https://www.editorialmanager.com/jiae/> for any additional comments that were saved as attachments.

If at some stage you are able to fully address these concerns, you may wish to submit to Journal of Innovation and Entrepreneurship with the revised manuscript. If you are able to do this a full cover letter, explaining the revisions made, should accompany the submission.

I wish you every success with your research and hope that you will consider us again in the future.

Best wishes,

Elias G. Carayannis, PhD

Reviewer reports:

After careful consideration and review, we must decline this submission on editorial grounds and subsequently have declined to send the paper out to external peer reviewers. There is insufficient use of recent in-text citations in your paper as most of the sources used are before 2010. Also, there is no academic rigor in the way the research was conducted. You may wish to study published articles that examine perspectives of this topic, which will give you an idea as to how you must revise your article. Please go through the journal's guidelines thoroughly and revise the paper accordingly. Make sure not to include the authors' information in the blind manuscript. Thank you for submitting your paper to the Journal of Innovation and Entrepreneurship.
