

ABSTRACT

Kedisan Village, Kintamani, has many potential tourist attractions because of its beautiful natural scenery. However, Kedisan Village remains relatively unknown to both local and foreign tourists. This research was conducted to assess the potential of tourist attractions in Kedisan Village, with the aim of devising an appropriate development strategy to enhance tourist interest in visiting Kedisan Village, Kintamani. This study employs descriptive qualitative and quantitative methods, also known as mix methods. The analysis technique used is the SWOT analysis technique (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats). Data sources were collected through observation and in-depth interviews with 15 respondents consisting of the village head, Kedisan Village, Kintamani, 4 staff from the Kedisan Village Office, 5 people from tourism managers (BUMDEs and BUMDAT Kedisan Village), and 5 local people. There are various strategies for development that can be implemented, including the creation of new tourist attractions, the enhancement of supporting facilities, the development of cultural tourism attractions such as cycling and fishing, and the inclusion of popular tourism programs. The tourism managers of Kedisan Village, Kintamani, such as BUMDEs and BUMDAT, need to improve the programs that will be carried out in the development of tourism objects to increase the interest of tourist visits. Additionally, they collaborate with the local community to actively participate in the development of tourism objects in Kedisan Village, ensuring that every community reaps the benefits of this development.
